Discussion:
- Ron created a presentation to brainstorm ideas for next year (see white board).

What are our opportunities?
Renewable energy and working with Transportation Alternatives Board (Ron); Propagating outwards into the community, using the campus as a training center (Britt); Marketing to prospective students via tours and orientation (Bruce K); Working with commuter buses, Amtrak, and vanpools to better suit the needs of commuters (George); Searching for a better funding mechanism for the TAP program (Joel); Have a CSC member also be a member of TAB (Mo); Bren is in the process of starting a Built Environment curriculum, there could be some synergy between the course content and the campus (Bruce K); Building partnerships with the local governments (Joel) and invite them to be members of the CSC (Ron).

What are our threats (external)?
Budget; If we don’t plan to spread the word to potential and incoming students, staff, faculty, etc., we will be in trouble (Ron); We have a perspective problem, people think sustainability is “too expensive” (Steffen); System-wide policies impact us (Bruce K).
What are our weaknesses (internal)?
Not enough faculty buy-in (George); Challenges figuring out and navigating within our own bureaucracy (Mo); So many things going on in sustainability, there is a lack of transparency (Steffen); Our goals have not been cutting edge, nothing to really set us apart (Steffen); No mechanism to enforce policies (George); We need more individual accountability to lead to behavioral changes (Steffen); We need to look for more low hanging fruit and ways to change behavior. We focus too much on the “why not” - need to search for low/no-cost things to do in the meantime (Britt); There is so much going on that we can delve into anyone thing deeply enough - the committee needs to focus on one or two topics only per year (Ron).

What are our strengths?
We are developing policies (Joel); Our intellectual capacity – Bren, IEE, etc. (Steffen); Active student groups (Britt); Each member of the committee has their own expertise; Top-down recommendations - the committee provides the framework.

Goals/Topics
The group agreed we should focus on developing 3-4 goals that are quickly achievable and don’t have a large price tag to complete. This would give the committee some quick and impactful results next year. We could pitch the list of 3-4 items to the CSC, then have the committee hone it to 1-2 items we would actually move forward on next year. We could then invite expert speakers to cover these specific topics (Ron); Need something more centralized in UCOP (beyond the UC Sustainability Steering Committee) (Bruce K); We should meet over the summer to dig deeper into this and create a list of potential topics for committee to decide on in the fall (Joel). Joel, Britt, and Bruce all said they would be fine participating in this to have it ready for the fall meeting.
